NCUA Webinar with CFPB Director Cordray Now Available Online

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (March 2, 2012) – The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) announced today the availability on the agency’s website of the archived Feb. 8 webinar with Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) Director Richard Cordray.

During the webinar, NCUA Board Chairman Debbie Matz and senior NCUA staff also briefed more than 2,100 registered participants from the credit union industry and public.

Both an audio recording and a written transcript of the webinar are now publicly available on NCUA’s website at <http://www.ncua.gov/News/Videos/Pages/default.aspx>.

For technical questions related to accessing the webinar, contact NCUA’s webmaster at webmaster@ncua.gov.

NCUA is the independent federal agency created by the U.S. Congress to regulate, charter, and supervise federal credit unions. With the backing of the full faith and credit of the U.S. Government, NCUA operates and manages the National Credit Union Share Insurance Fund, insuring the deposits of nearly 92 million account holders in all federal credit unions and the overwhelming majority of state-chartered credit unions.
